EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Aditya-L1 is designed to study the outer layers of the sun, its chromosphere and corona, and many solar processes and phenomena about which there is still little understanding. The physical properties and dynamics of the sun are very important for us. The spacecraft is carrying seven payloads, including remote-sensing instruments. Five of them were developed by ISRO and the other two by academic institutions in collaboration with it. The studies will provide better information on space weather conditions, solar winds, solar flares and other phenomena. A better understanding of the processes on the sun and its environment can help in the working of communication and navigation systems which are influenced by the sun. It can also help in the study of other stars that are farther away. Life on earth and many natural and man-made support systems that aid and support it are crucially dependent on the sun. By studying the sun, we will get to know the earth better, too.

The spacecraft has been placed into orbit and has started its long journey. The successful launch of Aditya-L1 after the Chandrayaan-3 mission will further boost India's position as a space-faring nation. India's space ventures are also known for their low cost. NASA and the European Space Agency have also placed probe vehicles into solar orbit to study the sun. China and Japan have launched their spacecrafts and observatories, too. ISRO has also planned a number of other important missions, like Mangalyaan-2 to study Mars, and Gaganyaan, India's first human space mission, in 2024. There is a mission to Venus, too, on the horizon. It is a proud calendar of aspirations and achievements for the country.

Smallest spoon made of wood creates record

New Delhi: Sashikant Prajapati from Bihar has created Guinness World Records for making the world's smallest wooden spoon. The spoon made by 25-year-old Prajapati measures 1.6 mm (0.06 in). It breaks the previous record of 2 mm (0.07 in), set by Navratan Prajapati Murtikar, also an Indian, in 2022, reported the records keeping company.

In order to be eligible for the competition, the spoon must be a to-scale replica of a standard wooden spoon, meaning it must have a clearly evident bowl and handle.

Despite being permitted to make the spoon from multiple pieces of wood, Prajapati carved the spoon from a single piece of wood with the help of a craft knife and a surgical.

"Making a spoon from wood is quite easy, but making the world's smallest wooden spoon is quite a tough job," said Shashikant to the records keeping company.

A lot of practice went into making the spoon. To perfect the technique Prajapati carved over 10 iterations of the spoon before achieving the feat.

US woman has longest female beard

Michigan: Defying societal norms and health issues, Erin Honeycutt from Michigan in the US has clinched the Guinness World Record for the longest beard on a living female. Honeycutt, who is 38-year-old has been growing her beard for around two years, which now measures 11.81 inch.

The excessive growth on her face is the result of polycystic ovarian syndrome, a condition that causes hormonal imbalance, according to Guinness World Records. She does not take any hormones or supplements to enhance the growth.

With a growth measuring 11.81 inches, Honeycutt broke 75-year-old Vivian Wheeler's record of 25.5 cm (10.04 in) to clinch the title.

Beauticians Assn. demands action against unauthorised parlours

Mysuru, Sept. 11 (GA&TRR)- Mysore Beauticians Welfare Association President K. Vedavathi N. Rai has regretted that both the City Police and the City Corporation are not taking strict action against the unauthorised Beauty and Massage Parlours which are bringing disrepute to the official Beauty Parlours.

She was speaking to the media at Patrakartara Bhavan in the city on Sept. 8.

Stating that the Association is operating for the last 25 years and is regularly updating the City Corporation about unhygienic parlours which are operating in the city without getting permission from the Health Department or Licence from the City Corporation, the authorities have not taken any action, she rued.

"As per rules, to open a Beauty Parlour we need to submit required documents to Police Commissioner's Office and obtain verification certificate. But there are many unauthorised massage parlours operating in city and there is no action against them from Police," she said and added that the Association will submit a memorandum to the Deputy Commissioner and City Police Commissioner demanding strict action against such unauthorised Parlours.

Stating that there is a difference between a Beauty Parlour and a Massage Parlour, she expressed unhappiness about reports of raids on Massage Parlours being equated with raids on Beauty Parlours and cited a recent Police raid on a Massage Parlour. But it was projected as a raid on a Beauty Parlour, which has damaged the reputation of Beauty Parlours, she said. Association Secretary M.A. Sabina, members Pratibha Shetty, Manjula, Malini and Swapna were present at the press meet.

Huge Gulmohar tree crashes down

Mysuru, Sept. 11 (SBD&DM)- A huge Gulmohar tree near JSS Mahavidyapeetha on Ramanuja Road came crashing down at around 6.45 am on Saturday.

The fallen tree also brought down two roadside electric poles and damaged a portion of the house on the other side of the road, belonging to one Nirup.

The overhead power cables snapped as the electricity poles came down. But fortunately no mishap occurred as power supply got disrupted soon as the cables cut off from the poles.

As people gathered at the site, there was a general feeling that a big mishap might have taken place as the tree fell fown during school-college hours.

Upon learning of the incident, the area Corporator B.V. Manjunath visited the spot and informed the CESC and the MCC's Abhaya team. KR MLA T.S. Srivatsa too rushed to the spot and directed the officials to clear the fallen tree. As a precautionary measure, the CESC officials put off 5 transformers in the vicinity.

After hectic efforts, the fallen Gulmohar tree was cleared with the help of a crane, following which the road was re-opened for traffic.

The electric poles were re-installed and the snapped cables were put in place, following which power was restored in the area at around 6 pm.

Meanwhile, it is learnt that the Forest Department had granted permission three months ago for the cutting down of the Gulmohar tree as it had become weak, following which the MCC had invited tender for the felling down of the tree.

However, no one came forward to participate in the tender. Subsequently, Nirup, the owner of the house which got damaged in the incident, gave money to a private party for felling the tree.

But it could not happen as CESC authorities said that they would shift the cables on Sept. 26 and in the meantime, the huge Gulmohar tree fell down on Saturday. Fortunately, no mishap occurred as the falling tree brought down the overhead power cables along with it.

CPI(M) opposes anti-democratic policies of the Centre

Mysuru, Sept. 11 (GA&TRR)- Activists of Communist Party of India-Marxist (CPI-M) staged a protest against the anti-people and anti-democratic policies of the BJP Government at Gandhi Square in the city on Thursday.

"The Modi-led NDA Government, which is ruling the country since 2014, had assured the nation that it will double the income of farmers, will create 2 crore jobs every year, control inflation and bring back black money from foreign countries. But during the last years, it has not fulfilled any of its promise and instead helped the corporates to loot the country. Instead of 'Achhe Din', people have to face days of atrocities," said the protesters.

Stating that the people of the country are reeling under the new policies of Modi-led Union Government, CPI(M) activists said that the poor people have been badly affected by the rising prices of essential commodities.

"Cutting of subsidies, opening the country for free trade, decreasing value of the rupee against Dollar, extension of indirect taxes, failure to decrease the burden of GST and helping the black marketers are the reasons for the people's miseries," they alleged and demanded that the Government should take steps to check inflation and give additional quantity of rice to the State.

Dist. Secretary Jagadish Surya, District Committee Members L. Jaganath, G. Jayaram, N. Vijayakumar, Local Committee Member Subramanya, leaders Balajirao, Bhandari, Varuna Nagaraj, Chandrashekar, Krishnappa, Chikkamanchaiah & Rajegowda participated in the protest.

Fraudsters posing as CBI Officers extort Rs. 2.95 lakh from trader

Chamarajanagar, Sept. 11- In yet another case of miscreants cheating people online, fraudsters, who made a trader believe that they will purchase old coins and currencies at a higher price, called and threatened the trader by posing themselves as CBI Officers and have extorted Rs. 2.95 lakh from him.

The trader, who was cheated, is 48-year-old Ravikumar Rao, a resident of Nayakara Street in the town. Ravikumar, while browsing YouTube channel, came across an advertisement, which stated that old coins and currencies will be purchased at a higher price. He then contacted Mob: 99574-91251, which was mentioned in the advertisement.

Ravikumar was told to send the photos of old coins and currencies on WhatsApp. The fraudsters then fixed the price for the coins and currencies and told Ravikumar that they need to make a badge from the coins and asked Ravikumar to transfer Rs. 650.

After getting the Rs. 650 transferred, the fraudsters got some more money transferred from Ravikumar as fee and later began to call Ravikumar from various mobile phone numbers, threatened him by posing as CBI Officer and got a total of Rs. 2,95,200 transferred from Ravikumar. After coming to know that he has been cheated, Ravikumar has lodged a complaint at Chamarajanagar District CEN Police Station.

The caller later got Rs. 1.09 lakh transferred from Akash as registration and laptop fee and has cheated him.

In the second case, online fraudsters, who contacted 44-year-old Spoorthiraj Vivek, a resident of J.P. Nagar, gave her tasks to be completed in Telegram App with a promise of high commission, got Rs. 12,38,000 transferred from her and have cheated her.

Mysore Grahakara Parishat meeting on healthcare

Senior doctors debate State indifference, eroding values

Mysuru, Sept. 11 (SPN & BCT)- During the September monthly meeting of the Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) held at Yadavagiri last evening, the spotlight was on the critical issues plaguing healthcare services in Mysuru.

Members voiced several grievances experienced by patients, while respected medical professionals including Senior Consultant Surgeon Dr. C.G. Narasimhan, Dr. Chandrashekar of Aditya Hospital, Plastic Surgeon Dr. Jayaram and Dr. K.R. Kamath of Kamakshi Hospital, shared their insights.

One particularly distressing incident raised involved a senior citizen who was urgently summoned to a corporate hospital at 11 pm with a demand for Rs. 40,000 for his wife's ICU treatment. The guest doctors condemned such inhumane practices. The issue of varying doctor fees for similar services depending on the type of hospital room occupied was discussed. One argument was that lower fees are charged for patients in common wards to support the less fortunate, necessitating higher charges in other areas to maintain financial viability.

When asked why medical fees couldn't be standardised to prevent overcharging, it was pointed out that this approach lacks equity, fairness and practicality. The complexity and uniqueness of each medical case, even for seemingly routine procedures were cited as factors affecting pricing.

Issue of additional tests

The practice of ordering additional tests, even when earlier results were negative, was scrutinised. Doctors defended this as a precautionary measure to minimise errors, though they acknowledged that instances of malpractice do exist. The issue of hospitals charging different fees for patients with and without insurance remained a concern. The conversation shifted to the state of Government-run hospitals, including K.R. Hospital, where the doctors identified the overwhelming patient load and a decline in values and the prevalence of corruption as reasons for the decline in healthcare quality over the years.

Recent efforts, such as the opening of hospitals like Jayadeva and the District Hospital, have led to some improvements. Nevertheless, challenges remain, including a shortage of doctors, forcing patients to seek private healthcare.

The need for increased Government funding to facilitate further improvements was emphasised. Insufficient equipment, staff demanding money and political interference were identified as issues arising from management incompetence. However, these issues can only be rectified if the public actively demands better services.

Cost of medical education

The discussion also acknowledged the vicious circle of exorbitant fees for medical education, which drives some doctors toward a profit-centric mindset. In some specialties, money as high as Rs. 4 crore is paid, contributing to this problem.

Responding to a suggestion aimed at addressing the lack of care for senior citizens in impoverished rural areas, the doctors agreed to approach the Indian Medical Association (IMA) and the Government to develop a dedicated scheme.

Doctors highlighted their struggles with regulatory bodies that demand bribes, which ultimately burden patients. They cited the need to engage with Government agencies for various licences and clearances, including those from Health Inspectors, Fire Departments and Pollution Control Boards.

The issue of patients leaving hospitals without settling their bills, sometimes even abandoning elderly parents, was raised. MGP's Shrishaila Ramannavar, Bhamy V. Shenoy, Shobha Sambasivan and others were present.

As part of the programme, Ramesh placed the wreath at the Martyrs Memorial in Aranya Bhavan premises, that has the names of total 59 Forest Department personnel who attained martyrdom from the year 1966 to recent martyr sharp shooter Venkatesh (who died in a wild jumbo attack in Hassan) engraved on the pillar.

Prime Minister Modi's call for reform was echoed by Brazilian President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva, who stressed the need to include developing nations as permanent and non-permanent members in the UN Security Council. He also advocated for increased representation of emerging countries in global financial institutions.

During the 'One Future' session of the G20 Summit, Modi reiterated the importance of reforming global institutions, particularly the United Nations, to align with current realities. He pointed out that the world has drastically changed since the establishment of the UN, with a significant increase in member countries. However, the composition of the UN Security Council remains largely unchanged, necessitating reforms to reflect contemporary global dynamics.

Prime Minister Modi acknowledged the effectiveness of regional groupings that have emerged over the years and emphasised the need to expand the roles of multilateral development banks. He referred to the historic inclusion of the African Union in the G20 as a step in the right direction.

New-generation technologies

Furthermore, Modi stressed rapid advancements in new-generation technologies like Artificial Intelligence (AI). He proposed the establishment of a framework for 'responsible human-centric AI governance,' underlining the need for AI to benefit areas such as socio-economic development, global workforce and research and development.

He advocated for a shift from a GDP-centric approach to a human-centric vision of progress, underscoring India's commitment to data sharing, especially in space exploration, in the interest of humanity.

He called for a world where not only the interests of countries align but also their hearts, emphasising unity and collaboration on a global scale.

In conclusion, the G20 Summit yielded significant outcomes, including the Green Development Pact, an Action Plan on Sustainable Development Goals, high-level principles on anti-corruption, support for Digital Public Infrastructure and an emphasis on multilateral development banks.

The Summit also welcomed the African Union as a permanent member, reflecting the evolving global landscape.

Prime Minister Modi's vision for a human-centric approach to development and the adoption of responsible AI governance underscored the need for sustainability and stability in a rapidly changing world.

Wrong to speak low of any religion: Yaduveer

• Yaduveer speaks of Mahisha Dasara and Politics
• Farmer delegation asks Wadiyars to offer 'bagina'

Mandya, Sept. 11 (BS)- Member of erstwhile Mysore royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar has expressed his regrets over the recent remarks of Tamil Nadu Minister for Youth Welfare and Sports Development Udhayanidhi Stalin against 'Sanatana Dharma'.

Speaking to media persons on the sidelines of a programme organised to release a book 'Mareyalagada Mahanubhava Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar' authored by writer Meera Shivalingaiah, at Kalamandira here yesterday, Yaduveer said: "It is wrong to speak low against any religion including 'Sanatana Dharma'. Every religion deserves its own respect and honour."

Mincing no words, Yaduveer, who called the remarks of TN Minister Udhayanidhi unacceptable, said: "Be it anybody, it is wrong to speak against religion."

Reiterating that he doesn't have any interest in politics, Yaduveer said: "I won't contest the elections as we don't have any role to play in politics. However, we will always take part in the programmes of the society. There is no necessity to work for the welfare of the society through politics. We can serve the people in other ways too and is making efforts in this regard."

Like every year, Mysuru Dasara will be celebrated without any changes in the rituals, clarified Yaduveer.

Mahisha Dasara

On the much debated 'Mahisha Dasara' celebrations, Yaduveer sought to say "Constitutionally people are empowered to practice according to their likes."

To another question on Cauvery river water being released from KRS Dam in Mandya to Tamil Nadu, Yaudveer said: "The Government should decide on the basis of Supreme Court order related to sharing of Cauvery river water. Besides, the Government should take a call on resolving the issue. We are totally in support of the State and farmers. The farmers should question those in power."

Royals must offer 'bagina'

A delegation of farmer leaders met Yaduveer and submitted a memorandum requesting that "Members of erstwhile royal family of Mysore must set a precedent by performing puja and offering 'bagina' to brimming river Cauvery at KRS Dam by giving a go by to the practice followed by Chief Minister and Ministers all these years."

The farmer leaders explained, "The Dam remains empty as the puja is performed by leaders who carry a sin. By doing so, they are bringing disrepute to the Dam built by the Maharaja. Even now, if the royal couple offer the 'bagina,' the Dam will be full."

Companies must be built on fairness, transparency: NRN

In his keynote address, Dr. Sridhar Mitta underlined the importance of adaptability and change for business growth. Cauvery water released to Tamil Nadu on CWMA's direction: CM Siddharamaiah

Mysuru, Sept. 11 (MTY&DM)- Asserting that the State Government has released Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu only to comply with the Cauvery Water Management Authority's (CWMA) directions, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah lashed out at the BJP for playing politics over Cauvery dispute.

Speaking to media persons at Mysore Airport in Mandakalli here upon his arrival this morning to take part in Adichunchanagiri Mutt's programme, CM Siddharamaiah reiterated that "Water was released to TN only because the CWMA had ordered it and not out of joy or for any other political reasons."

Charging the Opposition BJP of playing petty politics over Cauvery dispute, the CM wondered why 25 BJP MPs of the State had not taken up the row with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, if at all they had any concerns about the State. Charging the BJP MPs and its State leaders of being tightlipped before PM Modi, CM Siddharamaiah urged the BJP MPs to raise the issue before the PM in order to find a long lasting solution to the row.

He also charged the Opposition parties of failing to stick on to their assurance on co-operation with the Government, during the all-party meeting called by him recently in Bengaluru. He further alleged that the BJP was not responding to his call for taking out an all-party delegation to the Prime Minister regarding Cauvery row.

Asserting that the Congress Government was committed to protect the interests of the State, he said that the Karnataka Government is waging a legal battle for resolution of the row.

Referring to the declaration of drought, Siddharamaiah said that 62 taluks are eligible for declaration of drought as per the Centre's norms. As far as the rest of 136 taluks are concerned, the State Government is anticipating a report from officials on the status and statistics, following which a decision will be taken on declaration of drought in these taluks as well.

Replying to a question on MP Pratap Simha's remarks that the BJP would not allow the conduct of Mahisha Dasara and the party was ready even for a confrontation, Siddharamaiah said he would not like to react to such irresponsible statements.

Responding to a question on the one-day strike called by Private Transport operators in Bengaluru in protest against the Government's 'Shakti' Scheme today, the CM said that the Government launched the 'Shakti' Scheme (free travel for women in State transport buses) for empowerment of women.

"The Government is willing to consider the fair demands of private operators. Though everyone has the right to stage protests in a democracy, they should be fair and peaceful. But it is not right on the part of private operators to seek compensation for the loss that they have suffered. Also it is highly impractical for the Government to compensate for whatever loss the transport operators claim to have suffered," he said while expressing his disappointment with the transport operators when his Government was willing to consider their just demands.

Referring to former Chief Minister and JD(S) Legislature Party Leader H.D. Kumaraswamy's claim that Siddharamaiah had once thought of joining the BJP, the CM said that he never dreamt of joining the BJP which he always labelled as a communal party.

"Never in my life, even in dreams, I would join the BJP, which I have opposed in my entire life. Kumaraswamy's allegations are nothing but baseless and childish in nature. Even my corpse won't go the BJP," he thundered.

District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Agriculture Minister N. Chaluvarayaswamy, MLAs K. Harishgowda and Darshan Dhruvanarayan, former MLA M.K. Somashekar, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth and others were present.

Highlighting the contribution of former MLC D. JD(S)-BJP alliance for LS polls

H.D. Deve Gowda addresses party workers convention at Bengaluru

Bengaluru, Sept.11 (KMS&DM)- Ending weeks of speculation, JD(S) supremo and former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda on Sunday cleared the air by announcing that the party will ally with the BJP in the forthcoming Lok Sabha (LS) polls.

Addressing JD(S) party workers convention at Palace Grounds in Bengaluru yesterday, Deve Gowda said that JD(S) Legislature Party leader and former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) and Prime Minister Narendra Modi will decide the seat-sharing pact.

Stating that he recently met PM Modi and the BJP top brass in New Delhi, the former PM asserted that it was true that he met the PM and other BJP leaders. The meeting was to save the JD(S), he maintained.

'BJP leaders voluntarily invited me. The seat-sharing arrangement will be decided by HDK and Modi. BJP should not think that we do not have the strength. I have conveyed to them the party's strength in Vijayapura, Raichur and Bidar. I have also listed my party's strength in Hassan, Mandya, Ramanagar, Kolar and Tumakuru. I have explained the ground realities in each district to the BJP leaders. I will go to every Constituency in a wheel-chair for campaigning,' the ex-PM said.

He also appealed the people of Karnataka with folded hands to save the regional party for protecting the State's interests.

Deve Gowda's acknowledgment comes after senior BJP leader and former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa had announced the possible alliance on Friday.

Kumaraswamy, in his address, asserted that the party will not stand only for alliance but also for protecting the interests of the State. Urging the party leaders and workers not to leave the party in haste, he cautioned the party workers against falling into the trap of the Congress.

Assuring the minorities that their interests will be protected, he maintained that though the minorities have disappointed the JD(S) for the second time, the party is committed to protect the minorities and Dalits.

Pointing out that the alliance with the BJP was being formed in order to put a brake on the Congress' aspirations of winning over 20 seats in LS and as a response to those who are predicting a wipeout of JD(S), Kumaraswamy justified the alliance with the saffron party saying that the BJP was also part of the Janata Parivar when the opposition fought the Congress in 1970s. The Opposition I.N.D.I.A block did not have the courtesy to extend invitation to the JD(S) for their meetings, he added.

JD(S) State President C.M. Ibrahim, Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda and other leaders too addressed the meet.

Thousands of party workers from across the State took part in the convention which was organised to strengthen the party ahead of the forthcoming BBMP and local body polls and next year's Lok Sabha election.

WORD OF THE DAY

Disingenuous

Pronunciation: dis-in-JEN-yuh-wuss.
Meaning: Disingenuous is a formal word that describes things, such as speech or behaviour, that give a false appearance of being honest or sincere. Similarly, a person who is being disingenuous may seem sincere, but is in fact only pretending to be open and candid.

Origin: To be disingenuous is to feign sincerity—to pretend you are speaking genuinely and honestly while concealing an ulterior motive. Similarly, a disingenuous remark might contain a hint of truth, but it is delivered with the intent to deceive or to serve some hidden purpose. While not currently defined in our dictionary, the internet term sealioning might also shed some light on the meaning of disingenuous, especially if you've ever been dragged into an online argument with a stranger whose true purpose is to exhaust you and erode your goodwill. As media critic Anita Sarkeesian wrote for Marie Claire magazine, "Sealioning is when an uninvited stranger pops into your conversation and peppers you with unsolicited and insincere questions. The sealion politely demands evidence for even the most mundane or self-evident statements and insists that you justify your opinions until he's satisfied—which he never is, since he's asking questions in bad faith." In other words: textbook disingenuous behaviour.

THE ODD WORD

Defluvium

Falling of hair.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Desperate times call for desperate measures

Meaning: When you say 'Desperate times call for desperate measures' you mean that actions that might seem extreme under normal circumstances are appropriate during adversity.
Origin: The expression 'Desperate times call for desperate measures' is believed to have originated with a saying coined by the ancient Greek physician, Hippocrates. In his work Amorphisms, he wrote: "For extreme diseases, extreme methods of cure, as to restriction, are most suitable."
Example: "I really don't want to break up with Tim, but desperate times call for desperate measures."

QUOTE BOX

I prefer to look at a natural woman. A woman should be courageous to become older, not desperate to look younger than her age. —Giorgio Armani
